SINGLE VINEYARD • BARREL SELECTED • LIMITED PRODUCTION

2007 Selección Rolando Jr.

The Story.....

One of the many benefits of growing grapes in the Napa Valley is the almost limitless bounty that Mother Nature bestows upon us. So generous in fact, that in good vintages I often discover a few barrels that are clearly superior to everything else in the cellar. On most occasions, this is a direct result of decisions that I make as a winemaker. Humbly, there are times when Mother Nature's good graces are purely the result of good fortune.

Given the numerous variables that I encounter each vintage, it is only after I've had a chance to taste through each barrel that I gain a genuine appreciation for the nuances that each vineyard has to offer. Those barrels that prove to be truly unique and distinctive, will ultimately form the foundation of our limited production, ultra-premium Herrera label.

Each wine will be named in honor of one of my children and will only be produced in years when I feel that the vintage warrants special recognition. Considering the painstaking nature of this process, production will generally be limited to approximately 100 cases.

The Wine.....

Strong...Muscular...Bold.. These qualities are intricately woven into the fabric of the Cabernet Sauvignon that I've crafted in honor of my only son, Rolando Jr.

Selected from one of our premier vineyards in Coombsville this is a Cabernet with tremendous structure, depth and complexity. While the tannins of our Selección Rebecca Cabernet are supple and rounded, those of the Rolando Jr. are big, ripe and chewy. The immense tannin structure would suggest that this wine will be equally pleasing today as it will 20 years from now.

This wine possesses a powerful presence that cannot be ignored. A true gift of Mother Nature. De Parte De Mi Familia, Para Su Familia!
